Choosing the right wine :

The practical art of wine making ends with the bottling of the wine.
Now the selection of the correct wine which you not only will enjoy, but that will complement your meal is up to you!
The old grand and classic rules are generally appropriate, namely white goes with most fish and white meats, red wines teams well with red meats and sweeter wines are for desserts.
However, as with personal taste, there can be no rules, only suggestions and recommendations.
In the matching of food and wine, weight or body of the wine is also very important, in that the dish should not be overpowered.

Should you prefer to bring your own cherished wine, we have a No Corkage Fee policy.

 Vintages are not listed but can be acquired from your waitron and subject to change at the wineries' discretion.*

DIEMERSDAL
ESTATE

The Diemersdal Wine Estate is a sixth-generation family-owned wine estate in Durbanville which falls within South Africa's Cape Town Wine of Origin district.

The history of viticulture and winemaking on Diemersdal goes back to 1698 and the estate has been synonymous with the history of the South African wine industry. Sauvignon Blanc has been the focus for the past two decades and Diemersdal currently makes six different styles under our own label. These wines vary from entry-level, fresh young wines to Sauvignon Blancs that have been skin-fermented and matured in barrel.

Having done meticulous research on the variety, we have come to the conclusion that Durbanville and Cape Town is capable of producing some of the finest Sauvignon Blancs in the world due to the unique terroir that gives the wines flavours and structure that are totally unique and driven by our geographical elements.

Diemersdal's point of differentiation to Sauvignon Blanc wines made in other parts of South Africa is our belief in dryland viticulture. Unlike the bulk of the South African vineyard, we do not have any irrigation in our 200ha of vineyards, believing that true terroir-expression can only be achieved through leaving the vine and the natural conditions to their own devices.

Diemersdal's reputation for expressive, stylistically pure wines and our annual array of awards – to our mind – vindicate this. Despite our focus on Sauvignon Blanc, it must be said that red wines also play an important part of the Diemersdal offering. Durbanville and Cape Town have been a historical epicentre of South African red wine and some of the country's greatest red wines have come from grapes grown on these soils.

The Pinotage grape grown in our cool climate produces wines of elegance, finesse and silky fruitiness and here we have been a regular recipient of the Absa Top 10 Pinotage award annually given to South Africa's best Pinotage wines. With the growing international awareness and demand for Pinotage, Diemersdal is geared to meet the increase in demand.

Other red wines include, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot as well as a Bordeaux-styled blend as well as Rosé.
